Clarification regarding accepting bank statement as proof of address

Bank passbook is one of the Proof of Address (POA) being submitted by applicant(s) to the DP at the time of opening depository account. In this regard, Dps have been seeking clarification with respect to accepting bank statement as POA at the time of opening depository account as many banks have been issuing/sending bank statement to its Clients instead of bank passbook. Further, DPs have also represented regarding practical difficulties faced by Clients in obtaining attestation or additional charges being levied for attestation on the bank statement. In this regard, DPs have been advised as follows:

(i) Computer generated original bank statement:

DPs may accept the computer generated original bank statement as POA if neither obtaining the copy of bank passbook nor attestation (stamp and signature) of the authorised official of the bank on the original bank statement is feasible. Provided such original bank statement is printed on the stationery of the bank, carries logo & name of the bank, displays the name, address and bank transactions/holdings of the Client for the latest quarter ending.

(ii) Computer generated bank statement on plain paper:

DPs may accept the computer generated bank statement which is printed on a plain paper as POA provided it clearly mentions the name, address and bank transactions/holdings of the Client for the latest quarter ending. Provided such a bank statement is duly attested (signed and stamped) by the authorised official of the bank mentioning the name and designation of such authorised official.

In both the aforesaid circumstances, DPs have been advised as follows:

- i) Obtain a cancelled cheque in original and signature of the Master Circular on 'Account Opening'

Since the inception, various guidelines with respect to opening of depository accounts pertaining to various type of Clients such as individual, corporate, illiterate person, Karta of HUF (Hindu Undivided Family), NRI (Non Resident Indian) etc. have been issued, which have been disseminated through various circulars. In this regard, a 'Master Circular' on 'Account Opening' has now been issued, wherein various circulars issued till date have been consolidated/aggregated into a single circular. Master circular on 'Account Opening' would be of an immense advantage to DPs as it would serve as a single point reference document.

The details which have become redundant have been deleted from the master circular. Certain additional details which are relevant to the topic have been added / modified accordingly. Further, reference number and date of issuance of the circulars till date is incorporated in the relevant areas of the master circular for ready reference.

This has been informed to DPs vide Circular No. NSDL/POLICY/2007/0077 dated December 19, 2007. Entire text of the Master circular on 'Account Opening' is posted on NSDL website www.nsd1.co.in.
