DPs to pay penalty if adequate NCFM qualified persons are not appointed.

NSDL had made it mandatory to appoint atleast one qualified person at each of its service centre by June 30, 2001. For those DPs who do not comply, a penalty of Rs. 100 per day per service centre was leviable for continued default beyond June 30, 2001. NSDL has relaxed the penalty for DPs who have shown progress. The revised penalty is given below:

Nature of non-compliance	Penalty
Participant having qualified persons employed in one or more service centres but not less than 60% of the total service centres.	Effective from July 1, 2001, Rs. 100 per day per Participant till the number of qualified persons appointed by the Participant equals the total number of service centres, subject to a maximum of Rs. 3000 per Participant.
Number of qualified persons appointed is less than 60% of the total number of service centres.	Effective from July 1, 2001, Rs. 100 per day per Participant till the appointment of qualified persons that equals the total number of service centres.
Total number of qualified persons not equal to the total number of service centres.	Effective from October 1, 2001, Rs. 50 per day per service centre till the appointment of qualified persons.

Time limit of 2 years removed for transmission-cum-demat procedure

The requirement of accepting transmission-cum-demat requests only till two years after the death of the deceased has been removed and now such requests can be accepted even after two years from the date of the death of the deceased.

In case of death of one or more of the joint holders, the surviving joint holder(s) can get the name(s) of the deceased deleted from the security certificate(s) and get them dematerialised by submitting the security certificates alongwith the Transmission Form and the Dematerialisation Request Form to the Participant.

CSE, BgSE & DSE announces Auto DOs for rolling settlements

CSE, BgSE & DSE have announced the commencement of automatic generation of delivery-out instructions for rolling settlements. With this, four stock exchanges (including BSE) are providing the facility of Auto DOs for rolling settlements.

NSE introduces new market types

NSE introduces new market types for settlements at NSE commencing from July 2, 2001. The new market types are "Normal", "Auction Normal", "Account Period" & "Auction A/c Period". The market type "Normal" relates to the compulsory rolling settlements at NSE and the market type "Account Period" relates to weekly settlements (Monday to Friday) at NSE. Those clients who sell shares in the rolling settlement in NSE must mention the market type as "Normal" in the delivery instruction forms to be submitted to their DPs. Similarly, those brokers who execute trades on behalf of their clients in the rolling settlement in NSE must also mention the market type as "Normal" in the delivery instruction forms. In case the trades are done in the weekly settlement, then the market type "Account Period" must be mentioned in the delivery instruction forms.

Uniform settlement cycle at all stock exchanges

SEBI has announced (Ref.No.PR 83/2001 dated May 14, 2001) that stocks which are not under compulsorily rolling settlement would be traded on uniform settlement cycle (Monday to Friday) with effect from July 2, 2001 on all exchanges.

Commercial Paper

Reserve Bank of India has announced in the Monetary and Credit Policy for the year 2001-2002 that banks, financial institutions and primary dealers (as also satellite dealers) shall invest in Commercial Papers (CPs) only in demat form, with effect from June 30, 2001.

CP is an unsecured short-term money market instrument issued in the form of promissory notes which are transferable by endorsement and delivery. CP is a discounted instrument and is issued in minimum denomination of Rs. 5 lakh and multiples thereof for a term varying from 15-365 days. Corporates, Primary Dealers, Satellite Dealers and all-India financial institutions (FIs) that have been permitted to raise short-term resources under the umbrella limit fixed by Reserve Bank of India are eligible to issue this instrument. CPs can be issued to and be held by individuals, banking companies, corporate bodies registered or incorporated in India and unincorporated bodies, Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) and Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs).

Advantages of holding CPs in demat form.

- An investor can use his existing demat account to hold CPs.
- A single statement will reflect all holdings in a particular account irrespective of the type of securities including CPs.
- Credit of a CP can be received directly in the investor's account.
- The risk associated with delivery of securities in physical form like loss in transit etc. is eliminated.
- The problem relating to splitting of CPs in smaller lots is eliminated in the demat form, as CPs are issued in the units of Rs. 5 lakh in demat form.
- Simplified audit of holdings.
- Savings in valuable executive time spent in maintaining manual statement of accounts, ensuring follow up, reconciliation, etc.

At the time of issue, the investor will make payment to the Issuing and Paying Agent (IPA) appointed by the Issuer and will receive the credit of CPs directly into his demat account. The IPA will open a "redemption account" with a DP and investors may transfer CPs to this account to seek redemption. The investors will receive the redemption amount from the IPA after transferring their CPs to that account.

No transaction related charges are levied on the DPs in respect of transfer of CPs. There were 4 CPs active in NSDL depository system as on June 30, 2001.
