1. Introduction

Every organization in the course of its work generates documents and records in physical or electronic form. For historical and legal purposes, the records are required to be maintained either permanently or for a limited period of time and in this regard, NSDL, as a depository, has been guided by various regulatory legal, operational and business requirements. Considering the importance of records and information handled at NSDL, there is a need to design a policy at the organisation level to ensure efficient management of records/ data/ information, whether electronic or physical. A document retention and archival policy involves the systematic identification, categorization, maintenance, review, retention, retrieval, and disposal of documents received or created in the course of business.

2. Objective

The objective of formulating this Policy is to:

- (a) organize documents and records that will enable search and retrieval;
- (b) define the period of retention of various kinds of documents;
- (c) dispose-of documents and records that are no longer needed;
- (d) meet the regulatory and legal requirements.

It defines the organisation's responsibility on preservation of documents and to provide guidance to the employees in making decisions on Document Management. This Policy will outline systematic identification, categorisation, maintenance, retention, retrieval, archival and Disposal of documents received or created in the depository operations.

3. Definitions

- 3.1. "Applicable law" means any law, statutory rules & regulations or standards applicable to the Company, under which any guideline/ provision with regard to the preservation of the documents has been prescribed.
- 3.2. "Archival" means the process of moving documents which are no longer used actively to a separate storage location after the end of Retention period for long term

Retention.

- 3.3. "Archival Schedule" means the time frame for which the documents are to be archived. Archival Schedule will commence after the end of the Retention Schedule.
- 3.4. "Company" or "NSDL" means National Securities Depository Limited.
- 3.5. "Disposal" means physical or technical disposal of any Document, sufficient to render the information contained in the document irretrievable by ordinary commercially available means.
- 3.6. - 3.10. "Maintenance" means upkeep of documents, either in original, physical, electronic or archived form.
- 3.11. "Original Form" means Documents to be retained in the original form in which they were created or used i.e. either electronic or physical.
- 3.12. "Physical Form" means Documents to be retained in hard copy or paper form. These records may be kept in file cabinets or any other storage units assigned to each department with proper labelling so as to enable quick identification of the records.
- 3.13. "Point of Contact (POC)" means the person directly reporting to the HoD and shall remain responsible for implementation of this Policy in the respective Department. The HoD may choose to nominate more than one POC with segregated responsibility.
- 3.14. "Preservation" means to keep in good order and to prevent from being misplaced, damaged or destroyed.

- 3.15. “Retention” means preserving the documents in the live environment for active use of the Company, which are readily accessible by those who are authorised to access.
- 3.16. “Retention Schedule” means the time frame for which the Documents are to be retained in live environment, post which the said Document shall be due for Archival.

4. Applicability

The Policy will be applicable to all employees, contractors and partners of NSDL and cover all the departments operating under NSDL. All employees are responsible to maintain and preserve the Documents that are generated in the activities undertaken, as per guidelines and processes laid down in this Policy.

This Policy will help in meeting the statutory requirements of maintaining the Documents by NSDL for minimum period prescribed under Applicable Laws.

5. Roles, Responsibility and Enforcement

5.1. Roles

All employees play an integral part in maintaining and preserving the Documents that are generated including Original, Physical, Electronic or scanned form, as per guidelines and processes laid down in this Policy. The employees shall familiarize themselves with the contents of this Policy and follow the process laid down for Preservation, Retention, Archival and Disposal of the Documents.

5.2. Responsibility

Every department is responsible for and owns the Document it creates, receives, uses, stores, processes or destroys. The Departments shall create and maintain a comprehensive ‘List of Documents’ as per Annexure I that they currently hold, corresponding to the Document Categories defined in this Policy with corresponding timeline for preserving, retaining, archiving and disposing of such Documents. The HOD and respective POC shall ensure that Documents of their departments are categorised as per Document categories defined in the Policy and necessary steps are taken to apply Document management schedules.

5.3. Enforcement

The responsibility of enforcing the requirements of this Policy is with respective HoDs which can be further delegated to the POC. The 'List of Documents' (Annexure- I) shall be adopted by respective HoD in consultation with the Compliance Officer. The HoDs shall confirm compliance of this Policy to the Compliance Officer at yearly intervals. The Compliance Officer shall also provide necessary guidance to all other departments/ functions to enable seamless implementation and adoption of the most appropriate data management schedule as established under this Policy.

In case there are existing documented operating procedures on Document management, then the HoDs shall change such procedure to be in line with this Policy and circulate within the Department for the benefit and clarity for its employees.

5.4. General guiding principles in Preservation

All the employees shall at all time abide by following guidelines on Document management:

- 5.4.1. All original agreements with vendors, contractors, inter-company agreements or any strategic agreements entered by the Company will have to be preserved in safe cabinets in the premises of the Company under the custody of respective HoDs or employees.
- 5.4.2. Each HoD shall decide on converting the Documents from Physical Form to Electronic Form and also maintain the Documents in Physical Form to meet the requirements under Applicable Law. For instance: Legal Contract may be converted from Physical Form to Electronic Form and the original contract in Physical Form can be archived in accordance with the Policy.
- 5.4.3. Each HoD shall encourage creation of Documents in Electronic Form by using digital signatures or other means and reduce creation of Documents in Physical Form. It will be also preferred to receive Documents in Electronic Form from external sources for its operations after considering the Applicable Laws.

- 5.4.4. The existing Documents should be digitised by all the Departments. A document management solutions (DMS) may be implemented wherein the employee scans the Document for uploading to DMS at pre-determined frequency as defined under the Annexure I. DMS shall establish linkage with other application for quick retrieval of records.
- 5.4.5. Any changes in the regulations, applicable laws or any guidelines issued by the Regulator with respect to preservation of Documents will prevail over this Policy.
- 5.4.6. Each employee shall be responsible for returning the Document in their possession or control to the Company upon resignation, termination or retirement.

6. Categories of Documents

This Policy prescribes the following categories for classification of all Documents:

- 6.1. Permanent Documents are Documents that must be retained forever either by virtue of the nature of the Documents or as per requirement under Applicable Laws. Such Permanent Documents should be identified by the HoDs and categorized in the List of Documents in the manner set out in Annexure I.
- 6.2. Documents requiring preservation for a specific period – are Documents that must be retained, pursuant to any statutory requirements, for a period as may be specified in respect of the said Document. Each of the Document is to be retained as directed in the Annexure I.
- 6.3. Non Essential Documents - Documents that are neither Permanent Documents nor required to be preserved for a specific period under the Applicable Law shall fall under the category of Non Essential Documents. Non Essential Documents are not required to be retained unless otherwise decided by the HoD.

Any questions as to the specific category as to which particular Document would fall under should be directed to the Compliance Department.

7. Document Retention methodology

The Documents should be retained in a live environment, which can be accessed by an authorized user in the ordinary course of business, based on certain aspects such as the need for documents to resolve queries, inter-department requests and responses to on-going audit requirements. The Departments shall adopt the Retention Schedule as specified in Annexure I against the respective document categories.

8. Document Archiving methodology

The Documents should be archived as secured storage of data/ documents, such that the same is rendered inaccessible by users in the ordinary course of business, but which can be retrieved by POC for the document in question. The access can be provided, based on certain aspects such as compliance with statutory and regulatory requirements, responses to queries or inspections from regulator and availability of documents for any statutory assessments. All such accesses must be recorded to be preserved as audit trail. Document shall be archived differently for physical and electronic documents. Archival shall comprise of a full featured transition for Physical Documents that are slated to be stored in electronic form. The procedure for conversion of Physical Documents to Electronic form comprises of the following steps:

- Document Preparation: Includes the logging the documents.
- Document Scanning: Includes the imaging and conversion from Physical to Electronic form
- Document Coding: Includes providing unique identification number for each document which can be easily tracked and retrieved as and when required.
- Document Indexing: Inclusion of coded data into files and meta-data.

The backend data should be periodically tested to ensure recovery without loss of transactions integrity.

Physical documents shall be archived through Document and record management company, currently it is Stock Holding Corporation of India Limited (SHCIL), who shall be responsible for systematically archiving the documents basis the terms and conditions prescribed in the contract and above process.

Electronic Documents shall be archived on the servers of the Company or its service provider with regular back-up as prescribed under the ISMS Policy.

9. Document Retrieval methodology

Request for retrieval of archived Document by any employee shall be approved by the respective HoD. The time for physical retrieval shall be as per the contract signed with SHCIL or other record management company engaged by NSDL. ISMS team shall assist employees in retrieving documents from electronically archived form to live environment as per the process laid down in ISMS operation manual.

10. Document Disposal methodology

No Document shall be destroyed notwithstanding the fact that the periodicity for which it is to be preserved has lapsed, if any enquiry, claim or litigation is pending in respect of any information contained in such Document.

Once records have been archived for the archival period, the same shall be prepared for Disposal, subject to request from the department and approval from HoD. The Documents retained or archived shall be reviewed every year or according to the need of the respective department and actions taken to destroy such Documents, which are due for Disposal.

Documents in all correspondence files both inward and outward should be scrutinized and only such of the papers as are not of any importance may be destroyed, the details of the Documents destroyed shall be recorded in a register electronically to be maintained by the respective department, wherein particulars of the Documents destroyed shall be entered, including but not limited to the following details:

- Name of Document

- Form of Document
- Particulars of the Document
- Month and Year in which Document was created
- Date of Disposal
- Mode of Disposal
- Requestor and request date
- Approver and approval date

11. Exception approval

Where any decision or proposition with respect to Document maintenance, results in Retention/ Archival Schedules not being in conformity with the schedule defined in this Policy, the same shall be approved as under:

Exception	Approver
Retention/ Archival Schedule for period higher or lower than defined	MD&CEO
Addition of new Document category and schedules

12. Policy review and revision

The Compliance Department of the Company shall be responsible for monitoring the implementation of this Policy. In case of any revision in the Policy, the same shall be carried out with the approval of the MD&CEO. Any difficulties or ambiguities in the Policy will be resolved by the MD&CEO in line with the broad intent of the Policy. The MD&CEO may also establish further rules and procedures, from time to time, to give effect to the intent of this Policy and further the objective of good corporate governance.
